In Memoriam

Ch.Winsome's Hucklebeary Finn, TT passed away on March 1st, 2010 after recovering from ehrlichia. Before the correct diagnosis of his illness was made and treatment given, physical breakdown had already begun. He survived six months after recovering, but his body soon gave out because of the extreme damage done by the disease. He was my best friend, "buddy", and a my first champion. He always wanted to make YOU happy - he was a great dog with a great personality. He will be missed for many, many years. by those who knew and loved him He was co-owned by Gail Rutter and Frank Fasano, and Carolyn and Frank Martinez cared for him and loved him, too.

Edgewood's Firestorm v Judeen (owned by Gail Rutter) and CH.DeRousse's Tom Cruise Judeen (owned by Judy DeRousse) died within months of each other. Both are members of the GSDCA 13 club, the only two in the litter. They had a unique personality, and loved to be around their people. Both will be remembered and are missed much by those who knew and loved them.

Love them while you have them 'cause one day you'll wish they were there to hug!

Health Matters

Cleaning Techniques: Wipe your dog's paws before coming indoors. Vacuum carpet and furniture with a vacuum cleaner that has a HEPA filter. Wash wood floors with Murphy's Oil Soap or a little vinegar in a bucket of warm water. If you have tile or vinyl flooring, use a solution of 3% hydrogen peroxide and water (1 tablespoon per bucket of water). There's no need to rinse and no odor. To remove a bad stain on your carpet, mix 1 cup white vinegar with 4 c water in a spray bottle. Spray the stain, allow to set for a few minutes; then rub with a damp cloth. Sprinkle the area with 1 cup of baking soda. When mixture is completely dry, vacuum. Kill mildew in showers with hydrogen peroxide, too.

History Lesson

Part I: In 1889 Captain Max von Stephanitz began the standardization of the breed. It all started at a dog show in Karlsruhe in western Germany. A medium-sized yellow-and-gray wolflike dog caught his attention. The dog was of the primal canine type, supple and powerful, and possessed endurance, steadiness, and intelligence. He was a working shepherd, born with this ability, requiring no training other than direction and finish to become proficient at the task. This dog, Hektor Linksrhein, was purchased by von Stephanitz, renamed Horand von Grafath, and became the first registered German Shepherd Dog.

Von Stephanitz founded the Verein für Deutsche Sch-ferhunde, SV (German Shepherd Dog Club), becoming the first president, and in a short period of time achieved the standardization of form and type in the breed. A standard was developed based on mental stability and utility. The captain's motto was "Utility and intelligence". To him beauty was secondary, and a dog was worthless if it lacked the intelligence, temperament, and structural efficiency that would make it a good servant of man. A breed standard was developed as a blueprint dictating the exact function and relationship of every aspect of structure, gait, and inherent attitude.

Von Stephanitz inbred heavily on Horand and also Luchs, his brother, to consolidate the bloodline. Horand's best son, Hektor von Schwaben, the second German Sieger, was mated with his half-sister as well as through daughters of his own sons, Beowulf, Heinz von Starkenberg, and Pilot III.

The first German Shepherd Dog exhibited in America was in 1907. Mira von Offingen, imported by Otto Gross, was shown by H. Dalrymple, of Port Allegheny, Pennsylvania in the open class at Newcastle and Philadelphia. The first championships awarded German Shepherd Dogs was in 1913. In 1913 the German Shepherd Dog Club of America was formed by Benjamin Throop and Anne Tracy, with 26 charter members. The German Shepherd Dog Club of America's first specialty show was at Greenwich, Connecticut in 1915.

In 1922 Germany introduced a system of regular breed surveys - a criticism of each dog, with a graded description and recommendation for (or against) breeding. This type of system never caught on in America due largely to the cultural differences inherent in American society. However, good dogs were still produced, as German dogs were easily available for American dollars highly sought after in inflationary Germany. (continued...)

WHAT IS A FUTURITY?

First of all, a Futurity is a Puppy Match and a Breeders show. It has come into being through the annals of horse racing. For centuries horse breeders have nominated unborn foals representing the pedigree mares and fabulous stallions from overseas.

Many, many years ago the German Shepherd Dog Futurities rules required the actual presence of the sires and dams of the individual puppies in the show. We are now only concerned with the puppies themselves. It is a breeder's show because these puppies are the result of a breeder's plan and/or breeding program. Because entire litters are nominated and generally many show, it gives a better picture of the results of the combinations of certain bloodlines (which is not always obtained in the regular show ring where generally there are only one or two of a litter shown at a time).

A Futurity is different from a regular show in many ways. Litters must be nominated for Futurities where in regular competition they need not be. Competition in Futurities is in age groups, while this is not true otherwise. There are no championship points given. Rather than Best of Breed, the winner is designated Best in Futurity.

In order to nominate a litter you must be a member of the German Shepherd Dog Club of America Inc. or apply for membership at time of nomination. A puppy may be entered and shown in only one region even if his litter was nominated in a different region.

Puppies must be entered in their proper age class regardless of development, maturity, or personal preference of the exhibitor. The winners of each class are judged in a combined group with the best male puppy being designated Futurity Male. A Reserve Futurity Male will be designated. Then the puppies of the opposite sex are judged with like results. The Futurity Male and Futurity Female are then eligible to compete for Best in Futurity and Best of Opposite Sex to Best in Futurity.

The Maturity Section is judged after the Futurity judging is finished. This part of the show is for those dogs that have been entered, but not necessarily shown in the previous years Futurity. The Maturity is divided into two classes only - dogs and bitches. The winners of these classes compete for the title of Best in Maturity and Best of Opposite Sex to Best in Maturity. A Reserve Maturity Male and a Reserve Maturity Female is also designated.

Futurity and Maturity winners and all Futurity and Maturity Reserve winners will be eligible to compete at the GSDC National Specialty for the titles of Futurity Victor and Victrix and Maturity Victor and Victrix.

If you nominate your litter(s) for the 2011 Futurities before they are 7 days old, the nomination is FREE, thanks to Purina! Please keep in mind that, once you have bred your bitch and confirmed that she is in whelp, you may nominate the litter even before the pups are born and ..... you guessed it ... it's FREE!

If, Futurities do indeed, "Forecast the future," this should be an all-important show. It should be important for breeder's competition, an early look at up and coming young dogs, a look at what the breeder's in your geographical location are accomplishing in their breeding programs, and a look at and into what we are doing for and to our breed.

A JOKE A DAY

A man with a German Shepherd walks into a bar and sits down at the counter. The bartender says, "Hey Pal, you can't bring that dog in here!"

The man replies, "But this is a Seeing Eye dog!"
The bartender skeptically replies, "Well, all right, I guess you both can stay."

After a while, the man and his dog get up to leave. Passing through the door, another man with a small Poodle is coming in.

The man with the German Shepherd says, "The bartender won't like you bringing in your dog, but if you tell him it's a Seeing Eye dog he'll let it go."

The man with the poodle acknowledges this and thanking the man he passes and enters the bar. The bartender sees the dog and says, "Hey Buddy! You can't bring that Poodle in here!"

The man stares straight ahead and shaking his head says, "What! They gave me a Poodle?"

Hopefully, you found our club's newsletter to be informative and something to help keep our club members informed and unified.

I need ideas, cartoons, educational information, brags, anything that would make this newsletter something you would look forward to getting! If anyone has software for a publishing program (i.e. pagemaker) and/or clipart, I would appreciate being able to use it to do a more professional issue of the newsletter.

If some members prefer to have the newsletter e-mailed, please send me permission at ruttergsd@socket.net or call (573) 470-3505. Also, Bill Harper will be putting it on the club's website. If you would prefer simply to look at it on the website or print a copy for yourself there, this would save the club the cost of printing and postage. Please let me know if the alternate methods of delivery would be permissible. I look forward to a having lots of fun with this.
