Regular Meeting Minutes
November 17, 1989

approved
as read

The regular monthly meeting of the G.S.D.C. of St. Louis, Inc. was called to order by President Bud Leistner at 8:20 p.m. at the Brentwood Recreation Center.

The roll was called. Ken Dieckmann, Larry Sisson and Marilee Wilkinson were absent at roll call.

Minutes of the October 20, 1989 meeting were approved as read.

The Treasurer's report was read.

President Leistner opened the floor for nomination of judges for the Fall Show 1990. Nominated for conformation judge were:

Dan Smith	Carmen Battaglia
Nick Mondelli	Allen Sandell
Helen Fisher	Col. William Gish

Nancy Kearney moved the nominations be closed. The motion was seconded by Helene Bridges.

Nominated for obedience judge were:

Ann Hooverson	Barbara Goodman
Patrick Higgins	Harvey Conradi

Don Bridges moved the nominations be closed. The motion was seconded by Harold Beckham.

Committee Reports

Nancy Kearney moved that the meeting be turned over to the educational presentation with the request that she retain the floor afterward. The motion was seconded by Harold Beckham and passed.

Dyan Harper introduced Barb Bronson and Corp. Holly who in turn introduced John Barnhill and Ace. This was followed by a presentation about the War Dog Memorial Project.

There was a short break.

Committee Reports

Canine Corp.: Nancy Kearney voiced her personal feelings on different topics.

Wag-n-Tongue: Daphne Szczuka reported that the Wag had been mailed and December 4 was the deadline for the December issue. Ads will not be taken over the phone. Payment must accompany the ad, if it is not paid within 30 days a $3.00 service charge will be added. Front covers will now be $25.00 plus printers charge, if any.

Veteran's Day Parade: Barb Bronson reported that the parade had gone well. She thanked all who had attended. President Leistner thanked Barb for organizing the parade. Barb also mentioned going to Jefferson Barracks for a veteran's memorial.

Training: Harold Beckham reported that classes were coming to an end and new classes would begin in January.

Christmas Party: Gloria Beckham announced the party would be December 15 at Mill Hill Fathers, 8:00-11:30. Reservations must be made by December 4. Those attending are asked to bring an exchange gift and an ornament for the Christmas tree.

The guest list was read.

Old Business

Nick Mondelli read a complimentary letter from the Rowland Co. with a $250.00 donation.

New Business

Voting of the Fall Show 1990 judges was held.

Donna & Mark Carosello, Linda Newman, Sonny Rupprecht and Joyce Wolmeier were welcomed as new members.

President Leistner announced there would be an Eye Clinic at Petropolis on November 19, and an obedience demonstration with petting time was requested by Delmar Gardens South on November 28.

Judy Deane made a short response to Nancy Kearney's earlier address.

Alice Krueger asked for updated referrals for the puppy line.

The results of the election of judges were Nick Mondelli and Ann Hooverson. Lydia Nuen moved that the tally be kept and the ballots destroyed. The motion was seconded by Harold Beckham and passed.

President Leistner reported that he had a letter to read, but due to the lack of time he will read it at the next board meeting, and then at the next general meeting.

A raffle was held.

The raffle for the basket of booze was held.

Don Bridges made a motion that the meeting be adjourned. The motion was seconded by Harold Beckham and passed. The meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

ASK Late-Night Advice from DR. RUTH Dr. Ruth Weimaraner

Dr. Ruth, I have a thing about human legs. Big legs, little legs, fat legs, skinny legs, stockinged legs, bare legs. Any legs. As soon as I see them, I stand on my hind feet, grab on for dear life, and hump away for all I'm worth. My owners have had to apologize to guests for me on more than one occasion, and I've had my rear smacked until even I'm embarrassed. But to no avail. The second I see another human leg, I'm at it again. What shall I do? My owners are talking about taking drastic measures if I don't control this obsession.

Shame on your people for smacking you when you obviously need a more sensible solution to your problem. If suggesting that you need a live-in girlfriend of your own gets you nowhere, I'd recommend you try simple Freudian transference to keep your urges under control. Pretend that legs are giant vacuum cleaners or washtubs or anything else you absolutely hate. After a couple of days of such pretending, you'll soon lose interest in legs and find yourself completely cured. Just make certain that you don't pretend that legs are fireplugs or trees. That'll only get you in worse trouble.

Dr. Ruth, I'm worried. My father tells me that if I play with myself, hair will grow on my paws. I've just looked—and they're hairy. Help!

Stop worrying. Your father is obviously putting you on. Ask him to show you his paws.

Dr. Ruth, I'm getting desperate. One of the neighborhood bitches is in heat, and my owner won't let me outside. I've tried everything to call attention to my problem—and I mean everything. But all he gives me is a lousy fifteen minutes in the yard on a leash. What can I do?

First ask yourself—do you really care about this bitch? Are you willing to be a little patient for her sake? If the answer is yes, try a more subtle approach with your owner. Look mournfully at the door. Stare out the window and whimper. If your owner has a partner of his own, try interrupting them frequently in the bedroom. You'll be surprised at how quickly he gets the message.

Dr. Ruth, the dog I'm involved with is a really boring lover. Really boring. As soon as he's finished, he's gone. He runs away, plays with his toys, and forgets all about me. Every time, he ends up trotting away down the street with this smug, self-satisfied look on his face, and I end up barking after him, "That was it?" He never answers. He never wants to talk. And as soon as I'm out of heat, it's like I never existed. I could be a tree, for all he cares.

Oh, dear. Perhaps you shouldn't be barking insults at him. You could be hurting his feelings. But I think you're right. You do have a problem, and it's important to make him understand that you have needs. Sit with him and try to communicate without barking at each other. If that doesn't work, I think you should both go to a therapist.

The Rescue of Toby Tyler

by Barbara Gambill*

*original article

We were sitting at home on Labor day , 1989 when we got a phone call from a friend of Tom's . He says he has a German Shepherd puppy that he has rescued from a guy who killed the litter brother by stuffing his head in a peanut can and suffocating him. He knew we had German Shepherds and thought we could help as he could not keep the puppy himself . He didn't want this puppy to end up the same way . Tom went to pick up the puppy which was a Black and Tan male approximately 4 to 5 weeks old . We were told his parents were both purebred registered German Shepherds but there are no papers on this puppy. He was in poor shape when Tom brought him home . He was filthy and had fleas. I immediately bathed him and defleaded and dyed him . I then fixed him something to eat. He ate like he hadn't been fed in a week and from the looks of him he probably hadn't. The poor little guy just craved attention and we held him until he settled down. He just couldn't get close enough to us . I had him checked and found he was loaded with round worms and was in need of building up . We wormed him and started him on his shots .

WE had to think of a name for this cute little puppy as we couldn't call him puppy all his life . By chance I was watching a Disney program on TV one afternoon. They were showing a movie about a little boy who ran away from home to join a circus and no matter what he did he was always getting in trouble even when he was sleeping . That sounded just like this puppy. He had a name Toby Tyler. In about a week and a half he had learned his new name .

We kept him on a regiment of good food, vitamins, and plenty of TLC . He started to gain weight and his coat lost that dull, yucky look and feel . In it's place was a shiny and soft new healthy coat . He was now looking and feeling pretty good. He was growing too and I noticed that he was starting to cut his adult teeth. On closer examination one morning I noticed that his tongue was cut. I had it checked and apparently it had been that way for some time . It appeared that the guy who had him and his brother had tried to cut his tongue off and as he grew it became more visible . How could anyone do such a horrid thing to a defenceless little puppy ? I don't regret taking this puppy out of such an environment as if we hadn't he probably would be dead by now .

Toby is now almost 6 months old and his ears are up one day and down the next. We have taped them twice and are supplementing him with a little extra calcium during the theething process . I have started him in Novice Obediance after Lead Training him as I did his playmate , Candy . He is doing very well and after all He's been thru I am very pleased with his progress.

Toby Tyler will have a home with us for as long as he lives and I hope it will be a long time. He is a very loving dog and I enjoy his company during the day that would other wise be boring. We love our dogs and know that what we have done for this puppy will be returned someday by his love for us .

Toby will never be a show dog but is a True Shepherd thru and thru .
LOVE IS A GERMAN SHEPHERD whether registered or not .

MY VALENTINE*

by Daphne Szczuka

*original article

This valentine is dedicated to all of the "non-doggy" spouses and friends of "doggy" people everywhere. My husband, Tony, is one of those, and he must love me very much. After all, what else could make him get up at 4:00 A.M. (or midnight, or whenever), load the van, drive me to a dog show, unload the van, shuttle dogs from their crates to the ring, take pictures, sometimes show a dog if I won more than one class, re-load the van, and drive me home. What else would allow me to convince him that I "need" another dog, more dog runs, or a bigger van?!

For those of you who do not know, this is my second stint at being editor of the Wag-N-Tongue. Last time I did it, my husband, who was not a member of the club at the time, spent hours helping me to print, organize, and collate the Wag-N-Tongue, premium lists, and show and match catalogs. So, what did he say when I asked if I could be editor again? Well, its here, isn't it.? What a guy!!!

There are other "non-doggy" people in my life that make it possible for me to be involved in my "doggy" activities. There is my Dad, who has not only tolerated my mother's "doggy" escapades for years (I come by it honestly -- I inherited it from my mother), but he even used some of his vacation days to come to St. Louis and help Tony and me build our dog runs. And there are my In-laws who, when we went to Los Angeles for the National, checked on our house every day and even gave us a "buy one - get one free" coupon for our airline tickets. I also shouldn't forget Chris, a friend of my husband, who helped us move the copier and assorted stuff to my house and he doesn't even own a dog (but I'm working on it!). There is also my nice neighbors who like my dogs and watch the house for me when we are out of town.

So, take some time out of your busy schedule this Valentine's Day to thank the "non-doggy" people in your life who make it possible for you to be a "doggy" person.

TO JUDY DEANE AND FAMILY:

Al and I would like to extend our deepest sympathies on the losses of:

MOM: Ter-Cy's Jasmine CD, TT, SchH I, OFA
Sweet Jasmine waiting by the gate with the ball in her mouth, saying come play with me.

SON: Ch. Caralon's Nicholas of Judeen CD (Near ROM), OFA
I'll miss our conversations by the umbrella table and dirty pants legs from your ball. We'll all miss your mouth, you'll live on through your sons and daughters.

GRANDSON: Am. and Can. Ch. Caralon's Trefferhund Judeen CD, OFA
You were my favorite, such a typical male, but you were Judy's dog. I know you'll be ever guarding Judy, Ed,
Aaron, and Tim. Sympathies also to Scootie Sherlock.

Jasmine, Nick, and Treff are a huge loss to us and to our breed and I know that they will always be remembered fondly. An afternoon at Judy's will never be the same.

Not the least hard thing to bear, when they go from us, these quiet friends, is that they carry away with them so many years of our own lives.
Yet if they find warmth there in, who would begrudge them those years that they have so ever guarded? And what ever they take, be sure they have deserved. (John Gainsworthy -- Memories)

Yes Aaron, they are all together again playing ball.

Love,

Liz & Al

CANINE GOOD CITIZEN TEST

Purpose

The purpose of the Canine Good Citizen Test is to demonstrate that the dog, as a companion of man, can be a respected member of the community, and can be trained and conditioned always to behave in the home, in public places and in the presence of other dogs in a manner that will reflect credit on the dog. The Canine Good Citizen Test is not a competitive program, but rather a program of certification; it seeks to identify and recognize officially those dogs that possess the attributes that enable them to serve effectively as personal companions and as members in good standing with the community.

Sponsor

Any AKC Club of record or any other qualified dog training organization, may hold a Canine Good Citizen Test.

Evaluators

Any person can be an Evaluator, but it is strongly recommended that Evaluators be experienced in working with and training dogs in Obedience, or for shows, or for the field.

In the interest of time and maintaining spectator appeal, three Evaluators should be employed as follows:

- First Evaluator conducts test number one.
- Second Evaluator conducts tests two through nine.
- Third Evaluator conducts test number ten.

Evaluating The Dog

The Evaluator must have considerable knowledge of dog behavior, he must have experience in the working and training of dogs as well as a keen awareness of the public's attitude toward dogs.

Before the Evaluator passes the dog it should be considered if this is:

1. The kind of dog you would like to own.
2. The kind of dog that would be safe with children.
3. The kind of dog that you would welcome as a neighbor.
4. The kind of dog that makes its owner happy and isn't making someone else unhappy.

Qualifying

Dogs will be evaluated on the basis of Pass-Fail. In order to qualify for the Canine Good Citizen award a dog must pass each of the ten test categories. The dog need only to pass this test once in order to receive a Canine Good Citizen Certificate.

Any dog that eliminates during testing must be marked failed.

Dismissal

Any dog which growls, snaps, bites, attacks or attempts to attack any person or another dog shall be dismissed from the Test.

Any handler who displays unsportsmanlike conduct or who is seen to kick, strike or otherwise roughly manhandle a dog at any time during a test shall be dismissed from the Test.

TESTS

ALL TESTS ARE PERFORMED ON A LEASH

Collars and Leads

Clubs should require that all dogs to be tested should wear well-fitting buckle or slip collars of either leather, fabric, or chain.

Special training collars such as "pinch" or "spike" collars are not acceptable.

The lead should be either leather or fabric.

1. Appearance & Grooming

The Evaluator will inspect the dog to determine if it is clean and groomed. The dog must appear to be in healthy condition (i.e., proper weight, clean, healthy and alert). The owner must present current rabies certificate, any other state or locally required inoculation certificates and license. This part of the test demonstrates the owner's care, concern and responsibility. The Evaluator then combs or brushes the dog lightly and in a natural manner to show the dog's willingness to be groomed and to permit someone other than his handler to do so. The Evaluator will then lightly examine the ears and gently pick up each front foot.

This is a practical test, demonstrating that the dog will welcome being groomed, and examined, and will permit a stranger, such as a veterinarian or his/her assistant or someone other than the owner to do so.

2. Accepting A Stranger

The principal feature is to allow a stranger to approach handler and dog in a natural everyday situation.

The Evaluator will walk up to the dog and handler and greet the handler in a friendly manner, ignoring the dog.

The Evaluator and handler will shake hands and exchange pleasantries. The dog must show no sign of resentment or shyness, and must not break position or try to go to the Evaluator.

3. Walk on Loose Lead-Out for a Walk

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the handler is in control. The dog must be on the left side of the handler (the left side position is required in all activities where dog serves man, i.e., Guide dogs for the blind, Canine Corps, etc.). The dog need not be in the "heel position" as required by AKC Obedience Tests. Ideally, the dog should be in such a position as to leave no doubt that the dog's attention is on the handler and that it responds to movements and change of directions by the handler.

The Evaluator may use a preplotted course or may direct the team by issuing instructions or commands. There must be a left turn, a right turn, an about turn, with at least one halt in between, and one at the end.

4. Walk Through a Crowd

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the dog should have no difficulty in moving about in pedestrian traffic.

The dog and handler will walk around and pass close to several persons (at least 3), demonstrating that the dog is conditioned to behave at all times and is under control in public places. The dog may show some interest in the strangers, but should continue to walk with the handler without evidence of shyness or resentment. The dog should not be straining at the leash.

5. Sit for Exam

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the dog will allow the approach of a stranger and permit petting.

With the dog sitting at the handler's left side throughout the exercise, the Evaluator approaches and proceeds to pet the dog on the head and body only.

The dog must not show shyness or resentment. The Evaluator then circles the dog and handler, completing the test.

6. Sit and Down on Command

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the dog has had some formal training and will respond to the handler's commands.

The handler may take a reasonable time and use more than one command to make the dog "sit" and then "down." The Evaluator must determine if the dog does respond to the handler's commands. The handler may not force the dog into either position.

7. Stay in Position (Sit or Down)

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the dog will assume, and remain in the position commanded by the handler (sit or down position being the option of the handler).

The handler may use more than one command to get the dog into position, taking a reasonable time to do so. The handler then gives a command for the dog to stay and, when instructed by the Evaluator, drops the leash and walks forward about 20 feet, turns and returns to the dog at a natural pace.

The dog must maintain the position in which it was left until the handler returns and until the Evaluator instructs the handler to release the dog from its position.

8. Reaction to Another Dog

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate the proper behavior when in the presence of other dogs.

Two handlers and their dogs approach each other from a distance of about ten yards, stop, shake hands and exchange pleasantries, and continue on about five yards.

The dogs should demonstrate no more than casual interest. Neither dog should go to the other dog or handler.

9. Reaction to Distractions

The principal feature of this test is to demonstrate that the dog is confident at all times when faced with distracting conditions.

The Evaluator will select two of the following:

- a) Sudden closing or opening of a door.
- b) Dropping a large book, no closer than 10 feet, behind the dog.
- c) A jogger running in front of the dog.
- d) Good-natured pushing and shoving or animated excited talk and back slapping by persons with the dog and handler passing within 10 feet.
- e) A person pushing a shopping cart approaching from the front or rear, passing about 6 feet to the side of the dog.
- f) A person on a bicycle approaching from the front or rear, passing about 6 feet to the side of the dog.

The dog may express natural interest and curiosity, may startle but should not panic, try to run away, show aggressiveness, or bark.

10. Dog Left Alone

The principal feature of this test is that the dog may be left alone, demonstrating training and good manners.

The handler will fasten the dog to a fifteen-foot line and go to a place out of sight of the dog for 5 minutes. The dog should not bark, whine, howl, or pace unnecessarily or register anything other than mild agitation or nervousness.

DO YOU NEED TO KNOW . . .

If a Judge likes Blacks or Sables ?

If your dog has a chance to take points from the Bred-By Class ? ?

MAYBE I CAN HELP !

I have compiled the results of hundreds of dog shows* from across the country. All of the results are compiled based upon the judge. For two dollars, you can get the results of all the dog shows a certain person has judged (since March 1987). For each judge requested, you will receive the name of the Show, the date, Major Awards and the class from which they came, if the show held a major, and a comment on any Blacks/Sables which took Major Awards. Major Awards include Winners Dog & Reserve, Winners Bitch & Reserve, Best of Breed, and Best Opposite.

* - Show results include specialty and All-Breed shows (GSD only) which had at least 15 dogs shown

The following is an example of a dog show result:

JUDGE: Doe, Mrs J

SHOW: Anytown USA Kennel Club

DATE: 8/8/88

WD : Good Dog v Hundhaus (9-12)

R : Rover of Clover Lawn (Open)

WB : Daisy's Duchess (Am Bred) (BW)

R : Windy of Danka (Bred-By)

BB : Ch Lady v Hundhaus

BO : WD

COMMENTS : Black for WD; Sable for BB; 5 pt major
