FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK.....JUNE, 1988

First, I would like to thank everyone who helped to get out last month's Wag 'N' Tongue , Barb Bronson, Elaine Harbison, Don & Alice Krueger, and Judy Deane.....THANK YOU ALL!!!!

Thank all of the Stud Dog Owners who sent in beautiful ads for our special Stud Dog Issue, and everyone else who sent in ads and Litter Box, info' and Wins this month. To all of you who read, enjoy, or bitch about this newsletter... remember, it belongs to all of us, and we can always use your input, ideas, etc. Thanks go to Pam Teiber, who wrote a darling article on our spring fun match... I can hardly wait for the one in the fall!

Sorry that this issue is a little late coming out, as we had so many other commitments this month, with the Edwardsville cluster (Also Known as "Deathmarch") babysitting Club member's Dogs, etc., it was real hard to find the time.

A word of warning before I close... Remember to keep yourself and your dogs cool in this HOT weather, also be advised that there is an epidemic of the dreaded PARVO in some areas, so keep your dogs vaccinated.

CONGRATULATIONS to all the Club Members who did well at the recent shows... please send in your Wins for our Win-Place-Show page.

We welcome letters to the Editor, Cartoons, Artwork, Poems, Ads, and Articles, Please continue to support our newsletter.

REGULAR MEETING MINUTES

April 15, 1988

The regular monthly meeting of the G.S.D.C. of St. Louis, Inc. was called to order by President Dieckmann at 8:20 p.m. at the Brentwood Recreation Center.

The roll was called of officers and Board members. Alice Becker and Fran Ruoff were absent.

The minutes of the March 18, 1988 meeting were approved as read.

The Treasurer's report was approved as read.

Marilee Wilkinson, Corresponding Secretary, reported Ruth Foster will judge at the fall obedience trial. She also has received a notice from the Bull Terrier Club for the meeting on April 18, 1988. Kennelwood has sent out letters announcing that it will no longer accept bull terrier type dogs.

Larry Sisson was welcomed as a new member.

The guest list was read.

Committee Reports

Wag N Tongue: Marcia Hadley thanked everyone for articles sent in on obedience and schutzhund. She announced special advertising rates for the May brood bitch issue.

Spring Show: Larry Duerbeck reported everything is in order. Last minute entries were discussed. Food will be available for those wishing to purchase it. Barbara Bronson said there were no ads from club members. Happy Jack will place an ad in trade for six flea collars and brochures. Lambert K will trade two dozen nutritional tablets for a full page ad. We can use them as raffles.

T-Shirts: There are T-shirts and jackets for sale. T-shirts are $8.50 and jackets are $20.00.

Marilyn Balsman reminded everyone to be at the parade starting point at 8:45 a.m. on April 30, 1988 for the Lemay Day Parade.

Fun Match: Judy Deane encouraged everyone to attend. There will be chili and hot dogs for sale. It begins at 11:00 a.m. and judging will start at 12:00 noon.

Ways & Means: Sharon Dieckmann announced that Diane and Greg Uhlenbrock just had a baby girl so they couldn't attend the meeting. We will be raffling off a concrete German Shepherd. Tickets will be sold tonight and at the shows. The drawing will take place at the conformation show on Saturday. One does not have to be present to win.

Training: There are 19 dogs in the North Class and 18 in the South Class. Everything is going smoothly.

Canine Corp: Nancy Kearney reported that one statue had been stolen and suggested that we should donate one for the 30 anniversary of the Canine Corp. Nancy Kearney moved that we donate 2 statues painted bronze in honor the Canine Corp's 30 anniversary. The motion was seconded by Louise Leistner and passed. Larry Duerbeck was concerned about our finances and expressed the thought that perhaps we should wait until after the show and make presentation at our Fall Show.

Property: Harold Beckham reported that we need a new place to store the trailer. We also need someone with a hitch to pull the trailer as his bumper is broken. Larry Duerbeck volunteered to see if his barn could be used. Marilyn Balsman suggested we run an ad in the Wag N Tongue asking for a volunteer with a covered area to store the trailer. Jan Dietrich suggested that the people in charge of the shows be in charge of the trailer instead of one person having it all the time.

Old Business

Ken Dieckmann reported on a raffle to be held by the Mill Hill Fathers at their country fair on September 18, 1988. We make $4.00 for every 10 tickets we sell. We will have our square dance at the carriage house at no cost for the use of the facility. In exchange for using the carriage house we will do kitchen duty at their country fair.

New Business

Bill Harper reported that instead of the July education program on hip displasia, we might have a public OFA seminar and postpone our program in July. We will need volunteers to help set it up.

Nominations for judges for our Spring Specialty will be held at our May meeting. Members were encouraged to bring background information for anyone they wish to nominate, if possible.

The educational program on how to give a show was presented.

President Dieckmann expressed appreciation to Bill Harper for his efforts on the education program.

Harold Beckham moved the meeting be adjourned. The motion was seconded and passed. The meeting was adjourned at 10:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Kathy Redford

PARENT CLUB REPORTS FOR REGIONAL CLUBS

Release #184
May 1, 1988

CONSERVATIVE TREATMENT OF HD Hip Dysplasia/Orthopedics/OFA Fred Lanting, Chairman

A recently completed study at the Department of Veterinary Surgery, Bristol University, England, confirmed what many of us have been suggesting for a long time: conservative management of clinical hip dysplasia is a viable option. By "clinical", we mean showing symptoms, not just radiographic (x-ray) evidence. Clinical signs include one or more of the following: holding stifles close together, toeing in at the rear, short stride, difficulty in arising especially after lying on cold surfaces, fatigue or unwillingness to continue exercise, inability to jump high, pain on manipulation of hips, and bunny-hopping (rear feet leaving ground and landing together). Dogs with a high pain threshold may show very few or even none. Conversely, some of these signs may in reality be indications of non-HD causes, thus radiography is the only definitive diagnosis.

The most drastic step in treating hip dysplasia (other than euthanasia) is probably the total hip replacement. A metal and perhaps partially plastic, socket is put in place in the pelvis where the malformed acetabulum had been, and the other part of the prosthesis is a ball mounted on a shaft which is inserted into the narrow area of the thigh bone. An alternative might be to simply cut off the old femoral head and rely on the ligaments-and-muscle sling for support instead of ball-and-socket. Pectineal muscle surgery can have good results depending on age and other factors.

But what if you decide on no surgery for your dysplastic dog? If the dog has obvious pain, you might give analgesics of a type and dosage approved by your veterinarian, remembering that all drugs have side-effects. "TLC" may be the best prescription if you opt for the most conservative management: keep your dog off slippery surfaces and stop exercising as soon as he seems the least bit tired. Spontaneous improvement in hind limb function is fairly frequent after skeletal maturity is reached (about one year in the GSD), perhaps partly due to healing of microfractures of the acetabular rim, partly to remodelling of the joint and a thickening of the joint capsule. Some of this may take place at about the same age some dogs are given surgery, and the surgeon's scapel may be thus given all the credit unduly.

The British study showed that as dogs with hip dysplasia matured, the degree of joint looseness tended to remain the same but the amount of remodelling increases. Remodelling is a turnover, or erosion/deposit of calcium phosphate (bone), and occurs mostly between six and 18-months of age. Sixty-eight dogs including 17 German Shepherd Dogs were accepted for a ten-year conservative management program. Ages at the beginning of the study ranged from three and a half to 12 months. Seventy-three percent had grade three or four subluxation. Nearly 80% already had new bone formation, indicating the body's attempt to correct laxity and instability can begin early. Age at follow-up ranged from 18 months to 11 years. Many had no difficulty rising from a sitting position but nearly half showed problems in that area. A few had HD so bad they were destroyed. Some were intermittently given anti-inflammatory drugs, Most dogs returned to the vet school showed little or no lameness or swaying, several indicated pain upon forced extension of the limbs, and muscle atrophy was reduced in some. Gait analysis during normal walking or trotting didn't mean much, since the dogs aren't "pushed" in such tests. Still, 63% showed no pain or forced extension of the hip, and 79% had what might have been a normal range of movement.

We can conclude that for the dysplastic pet, conservative treatment is a useful option. For the working animal, however, discovering HD after paying the purchase price and beginning training can be an expensive way to learn that a fool and his money are soon parted. Also, since even mildly dysplastic dogs with no clinical signs will produce a higher percentage and greater severity of dysplasia, such dogs should be removed from the gene pool - by neutering, preferably, especially if they will leave for new homes. However, it may be "managed", HD is still 100% genetic in origin (except for the very, very rare trauma such as being hit by a car), and progress can only be seen after a few generations of fairly stringent genetic controls - careful breeding of radiographed-normal dogs out of similarly good-hips families. (Digested from a report by Doctors A. Barr, C. Gibbs, and H. Denny.)

Herding Program

Mary Adelman, Chairlady

The purpose of the Herding Committee should be to encourage, preserve and protect the natural herding abilities of the German Shepherd Dog, and to promote the use of the German Shepherd as a stock dog through certification programs and competition in herding trials.

The German Shepherd Dog was developed as a versatile dog useable both as a protector, companion and herding dog. The early emphasis was on the working of sheep, but later when sheep as a principal stock fell off in Germany, they were used to herd cows and keep them contained on open grazing lands. Today, over 5,000 German Shepherds are used throughout Germany in the herding and control of the remaining sheep. Some German Shepherds work up to 700 head of sheep daily. In America, however, this working ability is in danger of being lost due to lack of testing of breed stock. Hopefully, the instincts are still alive and well in many good specimens. Herding competitions in Germany still draw nice entries and many German Shepherds are turning up all over America in herding tests sponsored by other herding breeds. The tests that are being proposed are designed to provide German Shepherd owners with the opportunity to exhibit the retained herding instinct in their dogs, to provide information to those owners who wish to encourage this instinct in their dogs whether for practical or competition purposes, and to provide recognition to those dogs who capably demonstrate herding ability.

Current projects underway:

1. The selection of Herding Committee Members for Board approval. At this point in time many have called, written and volunteered, but my final selections are not complete. I feel this should take some time and a great deal of consideration. Just being interested is not enough. I need committee members with some background and experience in herding and special skills in organizing and communication, as well as some knowledge of various GSDCA club members across the nation. The committee will be expected to augment and/or approve the various programs proposed by the Chairperson as well as make suggestions for future progress.

(The Program as currently outlined will be continued in the next release.)

Attention Club Secretaries: Please give this report to your newsletter editor for publication; otherwise disseminate the information to your members if there is no club newsletter.

Further note to regional club secretaries: The AKC is now computerizing your show data as soon as the current show is over. When requesting a Parent Club approval, send a letter with one or more sentences on the proposed date, as the Parent Club approves the holding of a show on that particular date, not the date which is approved by AKC.

1988 SPRING FUN MATCH

by

*Pam Teiber

I volunteered to write this commentary on the day of the spring match, unaware that this match was to be Caesar's last. I lost my beautiful black dog the following day, finding him "asleep" in his run, awaiting my late arrival from an out of town business trip.

I am so thankful he got to see his friends before he died. So many of them had known him from a pup, Don and Alice, Judy, Marcia, and several Caesar puppy owners showed up - owners I haven't seen in years, as fate brought us all together for one last fling.

And oh, what a fling it was! GLORIOUS spring weather for man and beast!!

The match began with the members singing "The Star Spangled Banner" at the top of their lungs, then laughter echoed thru the valley when at the end of the song--"PLAY DOGS!!" was proclaimed.

The conformation ring was spacious and obedience was done with hilarity and good fellowship. Imagine, utility articles consisting of a tennis ball and a squeaky dumbbell. (Instills attitude--right?)

Many of our new puppies just beginning their show careers had a ball! The pups were shown with absolutely no pressure, handed loads of bait and praised endlessly. What better way to start out a baby!

"Judge" Judy Deane got a surprise when she mistakenly tried to examine the handler's bite instead of the dog's! Sharon Dieckmann gave an excellent obedience demonstration. She was handled by Linda Newman.

Many thanks to the food committee and my husband Bob, the cook, for a job well done. (With the exception of the way Judy Deane counts buns-HAHA!)

For those of you who missed it - there will be another in the Fall. Come on out for good times, good friends -----and Good Dogs!!!!

and I get two tries at that.
They pat me on the head and say
"Good Boy" and that is that.

It's only half my job to give them teeth and toplines, fronts and other.
Remember it's only half my job....
They also have a Mother.

It's not my job to carry pups and make them grow and nurse them and feed and clean and make them strong.
That's for Mother...and a person.

It's not my job to care
and feed the calcium and food.
And stack, gait and housebreak and make them a showing brood.

It's not my job to plan the breedings and to learn what produces well.
To study pedigrees, and learn what's what and to pick out those to sell.

It's not my job to guarantee champs
the Breeder picks the pair;
to mate and whelp and feed and show and hope the champ is there.

It's not my job to be on hand when points are given out.
The Breeder, Owner, Dam and Friends take credit with a shout!!

It's not my job to deliver a winner
....it's only genes I sell.
But let the puppies turn out bad,

AND GUESS WHO CATCHES HELL!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

 LEMAY DAYS PARADE **

We would like to say "THANK YOU" to all the club members who marched in the Lemay Days Festival Day Parade.

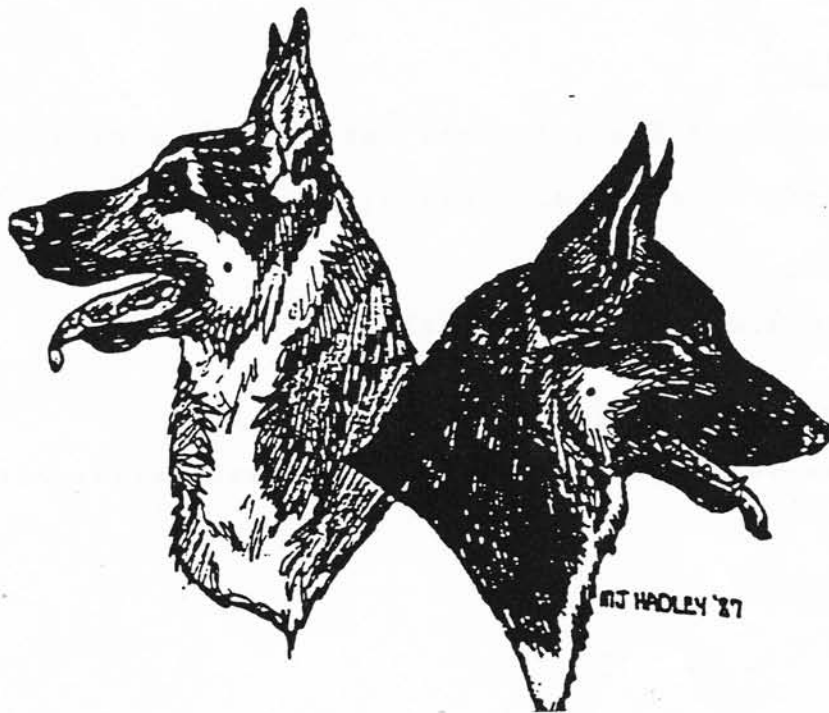

We had a small group but the people along the parade route seemed to enjoy the dogs.

After the parade alot of adults and children stopped by to pet the dogs, and we were asked alot of questions.

Some of us stayed to enjoy the food and fun. The dogs loved getting all the attention.

We had 12 dogs marching and they were all on their best behavior. So, Thanks Again!

CH. CARALON'S NICHOLAS OF JUDEEN, C.D.

Nick was home bred and at the age of 6 weeks evaluated by Scootie Sherlock as being a very promising show dog. What a thrill to be told that your first male pup could be a Champion. After recovering from parvo, Nick went on to become a very spoiled house pet until the age of nine months when he won Best Puppy at our spring match. After that he was obedience trained and ran around the yard and house just being a dog. When he was ready for the breed ring I started training Nick to pull out at the end of a lead. He finished his Championship before the age of two winning four 4 point majors from the American Bred class. Two months after becoming a Champion, Nick got his C.D. degree in obedience.

Nick's first litter to sire produced his first Champion, Am/Can. Ch. Caralon's Trefferhund Judeen, O.F.A. His next Champion was Judeen's Spice of Rock Creek, OFA owned by Debbie McGregor. Next came my lovely bitch, Ch. Caralon's Classy of Judeen, O.F.A. Nick now has multiple progeny winning in the show ring. He is very close to his ROM. It is very exciting to have a fine healthy champion that is still producing many lovely puppies and contributing to the breed. Nick not only has children winning in the breed ring but has children winning highest scoring in obedience, working on the streets of St. Louis as police dogs, drug and bomb work at the St. Louis Lambert Airport, search and recruit work and SchH training in Minneapolis. Many of his kids now have T.T. degrees and having their first litters of very quality pups. We can't forget the beautiful pets that are laying around the house, yard, and beds.

Going on the age of eight, Nick still loves to retrieve, spar with his son Treff, flirt with the girls, and drop tennis balls in the toilet bowl and put them in your lap. He was shown in veteran obedience and best of breed this spring and made me very proud of him. He is very dominant in producing very sound moving pups with great attitudes for all types of training.

Watch for all the Nick kids this year at shows because there are a lot of them out there. If you would like to visit Nicholas at home, just give me a call and come out to meet him in person. A very special thanks to all the owners of Nick kids for making this article possible. Without your support and love for the breed and its many talents, Nick would just be another canine.

AMERICAN & CANADIAN CHAMPION
CH. CARALON'S TREFFERHUND JUDEEN, OFA
GS-15018-T "GOOD"

Treff was the pick of the litter at the age of 6 weeks. He spent most of his puppyhood stretched out on our bed. He went through many ugly, gangley stages, but grew into a very dark masculine well-balanced male. A very sweet, gentle guy who loves playing with puppies and people.

Treff was obedience trained at the age of 16 months and then his show career started. He won his first points at Quad City Speciality taking a 5 pt. major handled by Pat Parsons. Pat went on with Treff and finished him very easily under well known judges at specialities and all breed shows.

Treff then went camping in the mountains of Cambridge N.Y., at the Monastery of New Skete where he bred many quality, lovely bitches from many different bloodlines. Last summer Treff finished his Canadian Championship, owner handled. Treff's progeny New Skete's Saratoga won best opposite at his Maturity and as of this date needs one pt. to finish his championship. Treff also has many young children winning in the breed ring, Captain Zach vom Tichbru has 7 pts and two of Marsha Hadley's puppies Arielle and Elaine Harbison's Angle. Vonshore's Disco Dolly has several pts. also.

Treff produces solid blacks, sound temperament, clean coming and going and strong feet and ears. He is now working towards his C.D. degree and loves showing off. Treff is definitely a true asset to my breeding program. A real noble guy.

WHERE DO YOUR SLEEPING DOGS LIE?

in a box in the basement?

on a rug in the kitchen?

on the floor of the doghouse?

WHY NOT ON ITS OWN BED IN YOUR BEDROOM?

Here at NEW SKETE the monks have long understood the value of letting their dogs sleep in their bedrooms--the value in terms of PET-OWNER BONDING.

Every dog needs its own sleeping place, for dogs love the SECURITY OF A DEN. What den could be more secure than your own bedroom?

And in this den, what could be more practical than a DOG BED? Here even the most energetic dog will learn to calm down and sleep as soon as the lights go out.

The hours that follow are a NATURAL TRAINING PERIOD. Your dog deepens its bond with you as it relaxes in the security of its own den and its own bed.

NEW SKETE DOG BEDS provide your pet a comfortable place of its own. Stuffed with resilient polyester fiberfill and aromatic cedar chips, they hold their shape and help repel insects and fleas.

The sturdy cover fabric is washable and comes in spruce, camel, or brown. Beds are available in small, medium, large, and extra large.

Breed survey translation: Meiko von Fuerstenberg, SchH III, FH, IPO III, KKL Ia
SV Breed survey master: Rüdiger Mai

Large (64 cm), substantial and expressive male with very good proportions. High wither, firm back, slightly steep croup of normal length. Very well angulated front and rear. Good chest proportions, the pasterns should be firmer. The side gait is far out-reaching and very ground-covering. Sound temperament, courage, hardness and fighting instincts are pronounced. The dog does out in protection work.

Under VI)

Recommended especially for improvement of masculinity, bone and pigment as well as for improvement of courage and fighting instincts!

Note: Meiko does not produce longcoats. He produces dominantly excellent type, strong pigment and secondary sex characteristics as well as he has been able to improve overall structural qualities and angulation.

THE PROBLEM OF THE MONTH: THE DUD STUD

A Golden Oldie by W. J. McMillan

Via the Wag 'n Tongue

Nothing can be more frustrating than an unproven male...especially one who dares you to prove it.

We had tried everything short of setting fire to his rear, which is known around here as "artificial incineration". Now I don't want you to think that we gave up without a fight. First, we pannelled his pen with mirrors, figuring maybe he was a bit kinky. We put in three bitches, in full heat; he didn't even fog the glass.

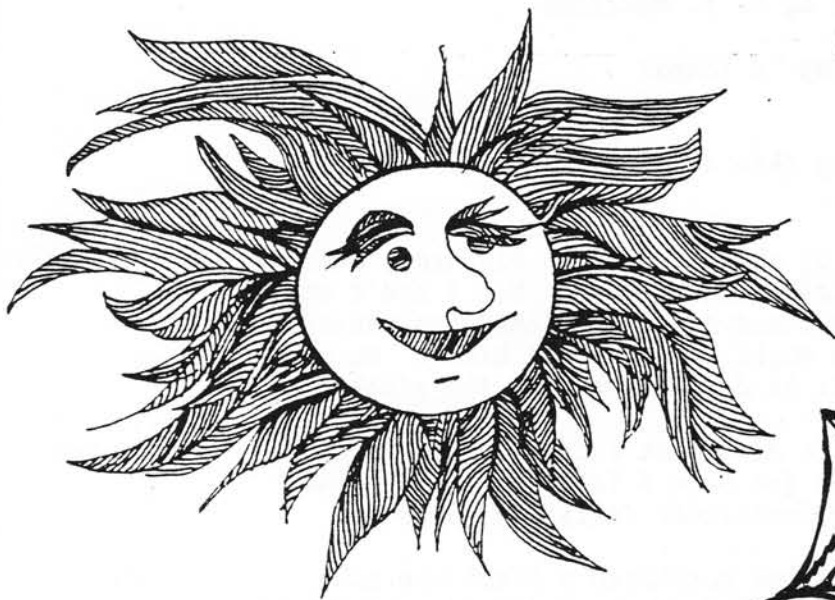

Next, we sent away for two reels of Master's and Johnson's Introduction to Reproduction, hoping for Show & Tell time. All that came of that is, he now has an insatiable taste for popcorn.

Not being quitters, we went out and purchased a bitch who came into heat every other weekend, and had a reputation for being over-sexed. We thought Super Dud might want to change his luck. Some progress was made. He did want to breed this bitch, but he wanted to be on the bottom. The next step was to bring both dogs to the Vet's to see if possibly either had any physical problem. Super Dud rode all the way sitting right beside her, not one bit flustered. We had gotten to the point where the only way they would have pups was in immaculate conception.

Things were calm at the Vet's until we went into the examination room...one of those two-by-four cubicles where you have to open the door to turn around. The minute we sat down Super Dud decided it was time to breed anything that didn't move. The first object directly in his path...you guessed it...the bitch. As he leaped to mount the bitch, she reclined; now we're $35.00 deeper in debt from getting his concussion treated. Never say die, we had an ace in the hole. Super Dud had an enormous appetite. In desperation, we dipped two bitches from head to toe in Gravy Train. It was messy, but it worked.

To prove no sacrifice is too big or small to prove a stud, we now have 8 puppies.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS :
