THE GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF AMERICA
WORKING DOG ASSOCIATION

The GSDCA-WDA was formed to encourage and to promote training; to do all possible to bring the natural qualities of the German Shepherd Dog to perfection. It aids by demonstrating the ability of the German Shepherd Dog in its role with the military, Red Cross, Police, drug and explosive detection work, security work, herding, search and rescue work, guide dogs for the blind and deaf and as a companion. The organization has strived to protect and advance the interests of the German Shepherd Dog and to promote the "total dog" to the United States. The "WDA" is the "working arm" of the GSDCA.

The WUSV (WORLD UNION OF GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUBS) breed standard states, "The German Shepherd that corresponds to the Standard offers the observer a picture of rugged strength, intelligence and agility, whose overall proportions are neither in excess or deficient in any way. The way he moves and behaves leaves no doubt that he is sound in mind and body and so possesses physical and mental traits that render possible an ever-ready working dog with great stamina.

With an effervescent temperament, the dog must also be cooperative, adapting to every situation, and take to work willingly and joyfully. He must show courage and hardness as the situation requires to defend his handler and his property. He must readily attack on his owner's command but otherwise be a fully attentive, obedient and pleasant household companion. He should be devoted to his familiar surroundings, above all to other animals and children, and composed in his conduct with people. All in all, he gives a harmonious picture of natural nobility and self-confidence.

Sound nerves, alertness, self-confidence, trainability, watchfulness, loyalty and incorruptibility, as well as courage, fighting drive and hardness, are the outstanding characteristics of a purebred German Shepherd Dog."

Schutzhund is a test for dogs to determine correct temperament and working ability which results in the ultimate goal; the "Total Dog", sound in BOTH body and mind. Today, Schutzhund is a sport that has three parts: Tracking, Obedience and Protection. Schutzhund was originally a test to determine dogs that were suited for breeding purposes in Germany. It is still used as a breeders tool by Schutzhund organizations.

The Schutzhund movement in the United States is growing rapidly all over the country. As long as there are Schutzhund trials, breeders have a way to judge the breeding potential of their dogs regarding correct temperament and working ability. Correct conformation is extremely important in a breeding animal, but is reduced to nothing if the dog is unwilling or unable to perform the work he was bred for.

Tracking is designed to test the dog's instinctive ability by requiring it to follow a person's trail of varying distances over changing terrain. The dog must find and indicate objects dropped by the person laying the track. This phase of Schutzhund requires a significant amount of continuing training because the dog is expected to follow the track precisely.

The test of obedience has the flavor of the Open title in AKC obedience with heeling, sits, downs, recalls and retrieval. However, there are some differences. The exercises are done over a larger area and require the team to be moving when the exercise is performed, thereby requiring the dog to work more independently. Temperament is tested to determine the dog's stability while working around people and gunfire. In more advanced Schutzhund, the dog is required to perform more demanding exercises and demonstrate greater physical ability, such as climbing a six foot wall and clearing a 1 meter jump.

While appearing to be trained for attack work or aggression, the protection phase is really quite apart from personal protection or service dog work. Fundamentally, it tests the courage of the dog and the trainer's ability to direct that courage into a well behaved responsible dog. In the protection test, a dog is ordered to locate a suspect, alert the handler to his presence and to cause no harm to the suspect unless the dog or the handler is attacked. When there is an attack, the dog must respond without hesitation or fear to stop the attack by gripping the attacker's arm which is covered by a protective sleeve. The dog is to maintain the grip until the attack ceases or on command from its handler. Only the well trained Schutzhund dog can pass this test by showing sound temperament, a courageous heart and undeviating obedience to his handler.

The major consideration if Schutzhund is for you, is whether you believe the German Shepherd Dog should possess the qualities Schutzhund evaluates. You should also appreciate the value of Schutzhund as a breeder's tool, an opportunity to learn more about working dog temperament, and as an exciting competitive sport.

The GSDCA-WDA was formed exclusively for the purpose of promoting the working ability of the German Shepherd Dog. It is a part of the German Shepherd Dog Club of America, Inc. and assists it in developing an American working dog program. It manages the selection of the Schutzhund dog/handler teams to represent the GSDCA in the World Championships. Many of the members of the organization are officers, directors and members of the GSDCA.

It offers you the association with some of this country's finest breeders and trainers; highly qualified American and German trial judges (furnished through the SV, the German Shepherd Dog Club of West Germany), training seminars and trials held under international Schutzhund rules.

In addition to joining as an individual member, we encourage our members to join as a GSDCA club. Schutzhund training is ideal for your club or group atmosphere where experienced trainers can share their understanding of the sport.

More than anything, the club offers an opportunity for you to become involved in the very challenging and rewarding sport of Schutzhund. Any number of personal goals can be fulfilled; recreation, competition, a better understanding of dog training or just the development of a dog into the sound, well-rounded companion who can demonstrate all of those characteristics that generations of good breeding have given us.

For more information or for information on a two-day introduction to Schutzhund by someone in your area, please contact Fred Schmidtke, WDA President, (919) 556-0728; Ron Stewart, Vice President (213) 434-9479; or Nanci Takash, Secretary/Recorder (412) 962-7435.

YOU SIGNED ME UP FOR WHAT?!?

Now I know I'm in A Dog Show Family

by Tony Szczuka*

*Original Article

I had been complaining because everytime we went to a dog show, I had to hold Kahla while Daphne was busy with other dogs. Kahla was not very patient with me and let me know it no uncertain terms that she wanted Mommy. So I guess I shouldn't have been surprized when Daphne came home one day and said "I signed you up for class!" I tried to think of what she could have signed me up for, like maybe the Engineering Course at the local Junior College I had looked into, or maybe a Photography class. "What class?", I asked. She looked at me like I was stupid and said "Why, the Obedience Class, of course". Of course, I thought, what else could there be.

The first day of class was interesting. Since Daphne was one of the trainers, they were all waiting for me to make a mistake. One of my turns was a little slow, and Alice said to speed it up. All I had got out of my mouth was "But ... " when Lydia came flying across the room saying "Oh No! I don't want to hear any excuses from you!" I knew I was going to be in trouble.

Figure 8's are one of the first exercises we learn that are done with only one person on the mat at a time. For some reason, Lydia was rubbing her hands with a sadistic grin on her face when my turn came up. She looked surprized, but disappointed when Kahla actually did it. (I was just as surprized as Lydia!)

Don told me that the only way to go through a class where your wife is one of the instructors is to just totally ignore anything she says. The first week, Daphne said "Tony, you're not correcting her enough." The next week she was saying "You're correcting her too much. Don't ruin MY dog!" By the third week, she was saying "You're doing it wrong. I'm not sure how, but it's wrong and you better do it right!"

One day, Kahla kept looking for Daphne during the healing exercise, so I asked her to move where Kahla couldn't see her. She was more than happy to move, but, just as she got out of sight, she started talking. Kahla could hear her, but now she couldn't see where Daphne was, so she became frantic. Not only was she misbehaving, but she started howling and trying to get away, disrupting the entire class. Daphne peeped around the corner to see how I was doing. When she saw how Kahla was acting up, she came over and said "Haven't you learned to control her yet?" That night when I got home, I checked to see if Daphne's life insurance had been paid up.

It was hard work, but at graduation, Kahla and I took first place. Normally after a hard class, I think back and wonder how I survived. After this class, I wondered how my wife survived.

Cemetery for Canine Corps Dogs By Nancy Yadon Kearney*

*original article

The burial place for dogs that have served in the canine corps is located on the grounds of the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Canine Corps Training School. Dogs buried here have seen years of active service. The cemetery is shown on St. Louis County maps, but the school is not. There are 144 graves (6/6/89).

Officer Frank Pierce started the cemetery in 1967 on top of a windswept hill a short distance from the training building. It was supported by the money from a soda pop machine in the training office. The officers had made a rough sign, outlined the dimensions in railroad ties and a chain fence of sorts. Letters for the grave stones were the stick-on type from a hardware store. Considering the means of income, the cemetery was adequate. But it was certainly no more than that.

A few years later several club members were visiting the school and noticed the cemetery (about two years after the inauguration of the Outstanding Service Award in 1971). Several comments were exchanged that it was a rather barren resting place and somehow did not do justice to the memory of those fine animals. Over the next few years discussions would start over something being done about the cemetery, but talk was all it amounted to until the summer of 1979. An article in Dog World Magazine on how a young boy had cleaned up a cemetery for military dogs brought the issue the needed impetus to get a beautification program started.

The club's first priority was to get some flowering trees and bushes. We also thought a couple of statues would add to the dignity of the grounds. The Humane Society of Missouri joined us in our efforts. Members of the Canine Corps enthusiastically did their part. They reset the stones, fixed up the chain fence and restained the railroad ties. We received permission from the Police Department, and their cooperation, to have a dedication ceremony.

The German Shepherd Dog Club bought two 3-foot high concrete German Shepherd Dog statues, with a bronze coat of paint. We also brought two Austrian Pine trees about 2 foot high. The Humane Society supplied some bushes and dogwood trees. The Police Department also furnished a couple of bushes. A brass memorial plaque was laid between the two Austrian pines. The plaque reads, "In Memorial to the Those Gallant German Shepherd Dogs Who Have Served the Greater St. Louis Metropolitan Community With Their Hearts and Lives. May You Rest in Peace. The German Shepherd Dog Club of St. Louis and the Humane Society of Missouri."

Century Brass Works donated part of the cost of making the plaque, the Humane Society paid $100 of the cost and we paid $100. The officers poured a concrete pad to hold the plaque. The statues, with concrete pad delivered to the school, were ~$80 each. I don't remember what the Austrian pines cost, but it was not a great deal.

On September 30, 1979, we had a dedication ceremony. Thanks to the cooperation of the Board of Police Commissioners, a singer and organ opened the ceremony with the Star Spangled Banner. There were several speeches and State Representative Charles Bratkowski presented a Missouri State Flag to the Canine Corps for the flag pole at the head of the grounds. Congressman Robert Young later sent a United States Flag that had flown over the Capitol on the 21st anniversary date of the Canine Corps (10/13/79). The officers of the Canine Corps put on a wonderful demonstration and a lovely reception for our club members after the speeches and unveiling of the statues and plaque.

Cemetery (Continued)

Dog World Magazine published an article on the dedication ceremony. That article was picked up by numerous publications around the country, including the AKC Gazette. As much as a year later a short article appeared in a newsletter.

The cemetery was now much prettier, but the sign, barely adequate to begin with, looked shabbier than ever. A few months later our club purchased a beautiful redwood sign with burnt lettering. The cost was about $400. Finally, the cemetery was a fitting resting place for the dogs.

Over the years some changes took place. The railroad ties were replaced by the officers with proper fence posts. The Dogwood trees died. They were replaced once by an individual club member and once by Monsanto Co. The Mixed Breed Dog Club bought two Bradford Pears which have a lovely white blossom in the Spring and turn scarlet in the Fall. They have done well where the Dogwood died. The trees bought by Monsanto were guaranteed, and were replaced by two Red Bud trees placed in the training compound to give some color to that area and shade the kennels. The Austrian pines grew so big that the memorial plaque and statues had to be moved, and the sign was moved to in front of the flag pole. One of the gold-tipped Arborvitae died and was replaced by our club (in 1988 for ~$36). A road crew went through and broke one of the 3 ft. statues. The remaining statue is at the entrance to the compound. Our club bought two smaller concrete statues to replace the ones at the cemetery (to honor the Canine Corps 30th Anniversary in October, 1988 - ~$77). Quite often flowers are left on the graves (such as after Memorial Day this year) as testimony to how much these dogs meant to the officers.

There are still some improvements that could be made. The lettering for the grave stones is not really up to par; but the officers keep up with it to see that the letters remain legible. It would be lovely to have some flowers around the flagpole, perhaps some tulips. Or better yet, some flower that will last all Summer. Just this Spring (1989), the City of Overland donated about seven seedling Dogwood trees to the cemetery. They were planted in the back of the cemetery under the shade of some larger trees this time. Hopefully, they will do better in that rather protected area. It only seems appropriate that Dogwood trees decorate the graves of canine corps dogs.

RAFFLE...RAFFLE...RAFFLE...RAFFLE...RAFFLE...RAFFLE...RAFFLE

Our club is raffling a beautiful Queen-sized quilt with matching child (or dog) sized quilt. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5. Contact Helene Bridges @ 353-0445 for more details.

Proceeds will go to the Canine Corps Awards honoring the brave Police Dogs that serve our city.

OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHY
TO OUR FRIENDS, KEN & SHARON DIECKMANN
ON THE LOSS OF THEIR BELOVED QB

When troubles come your soul to try,
You love the friend who just stands by.
Perhaps there's nothing he can do,
The thing is strictly up to you,
For there are troubles all your own
And paths the soul must tread alone ...
Times when love can't smooth the road,
Nor friendship lift the heavy load,
But just to feel you have a friend
Who will stand by to the end;
Whose sympathy through all endures,
Whose warm handclasp is always yours.
It helps somehow to pull you through,
Although there's nothing he can do.
And so with fervent heart we cry,
"God bless the friend who just stands by."

JUST A OBEDIENCE REPORT
BY: HELENE BRIDGES *

* original article

Well, our obedience classes are over for the summer, but this last 12 weeks I must say, I really enjoyed. I was the head instructor for both the north and south classes and we truly had a duke's mixture.

We started with 29 dogs south and 22 dogs north and on the first night of both classes I sat down and said, I quit. But I didn't, and 12 weeks later I'm glad. For 10 weeks we preached, talk to your dog, make them do it the first time you tell them, these were our TOUGH LOVE CLASSES. Over the month up north, we joked and had fun but insisted they work the dogs. The people that stayed, asked questions and really wanted to do it and it showed on graduation nights.

It doesn't matter how many passed, it's the fact that they stayed and tried and the ones who didn't pass were sure close. The important thing is, the people had control and were happy with what they got from the classes.

Alice K. judged pre grad south with 14 remaining and Marilyn B. judged north with 17 remaining. On graduation nights, Nancy K. judged both classes, north with 13 dogs and south with 11 dogs.

High Scoring dog south was that longhaired hot dog Boomer with Terri L., 1st went to our own Dinah and Don B., 2nd went to a new club member Heidi and Mark C.

High Scoring dog north was Solomon and Greg H., 1st went to Kahla and Tony S., with 2nd going to CH .Sharee and Kim M.

It was a relaxed and fun 12 weeks, so if you want to have a little fun and get your dog ready for obedience, come join one of our classes in September. Contact Alice, of course.

TRAINERS: South; Bud L., Harold B., Fred and Marilyn B., and me.
North; Don and Alice K., Lydia N., Daphne S., and me.

Thanks to All who were a part of these two classes for a job well done.

ALL THAT WAS ONCE SO BEAUTIFUL IS DEAD,

OUR SYMPATHY TO
KEN & SHARON DIECKMANN
ON THE LOSS OF
QUARTERBACK

The Scripture says that in His own sweet way
If we but wait,
The Lord will take our burdens and set
Crooked matters straight.

Jowett

His life was long and spent with those that loved him. No more can be asked.

SINCERELY,

BUD & LOUISE LEISTNER

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHY

to

KEN & SHARON DIECKMANN ON THE LOSS OF QUARTERBACK

AND

JUDY DEANE ON THE LOSS OF TREFF

I envy not in any moods
The captive void of noble rage,
The linnet born within the cage,
That never knew the summer woods:

I envy not the beast that takes
His license in the field of time,
Unfetter'd by the sense of crime,
To whom a conscience never wakes;

Nor, what may count itself as blest,
The heart that never plighted troth
But stagnates in the weeds of sloth,
Nor any want-begotten nest.

I hold it true, whate'er befall;
I feel it, when I sorrow most;
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all.

Tennyson

Your memories may be bitter sweet now, but will ease your grief in time.

WITH LOVE,

DON & ALICE KRUEGER
